1. Old Murphy had worked in a brewery, and one day he fell into the vat and drowned. The foreman went to inform his widow: 'I am sorry to tell you Madam, old Murphy passed away today at work when he fell into the vat and drowned'.

She looked at the foreman and asked: 'Tell me, did he suffer?' 'I don't think so' said the foreman: 'He got out three times to go the men's room'.

2. A gentleman was walking home when a tramp approached him and asked for two dollars. The gentleman asked: 'For you to buy booze?' 'No, sir' replied the tramp. The gentleman probed: 'For you to gamble then!' 'No, sir' replied the tramp. 'Then, will you come home with me so my wife can see what happens to a man who doesn't drink or gamble?'

3. There was a conference in Sydney where the CEOs of Budweiser, Guinness, Fosters and Heineken were attending. They were sitting in the foyer waiting for the conference to start when the waiter came to see what they wanted to drink.

The CEO of Budweiser asked for a Budweiser, the one from Heineken's asked for a Heineken and the one from Foster's asked for a Foster.

When the waiter came to the CEO of Guinness he asked for a Coke. The waiter asked him: 'But Sir, don't you want a beer?' 'No' said the CEO, 'My colleagues are not having beers so I won't have one either!'

4. This is a true story: A routine police patrol was passing outside a bar in Forth Worth, Texas when he saw a very drunk man looking for his car in the car park. He kept looking at him while the drunk proceeded to try his keys in 5 different cars and nearly fell over a motorbike.

Meanwhile the patrons of the bar started going home while the drunk kept looking for his car. He finally found his car and took a while to open the door of the car. Once inside the car, he attempted to light a cigarette 6 times.

By now the car park was empty and the police patrol decided to go and talk to the drunk before he started the car. He approached the car and said to the drunk: 'You know, sir, you are not allowed to drive under the influence!' – 'Driving under the influence? Me?' said the man brightly and sober. 'I doubt it very much Officer; I am just the designated decoy!'

5. A man was drunk as a skunk when he came home and heard the cuckoo clock going three times. Quickly, he cuckooed nine more times hoping his wife would think it was midnight.

The next day, his wife asked what time he got home and he replied: 'Midnight'. She then said they needed another cuckoo clock because: 'Midnight, last night it cuckooed three times and said 'dam', cuckooed four more times and cleared its throat, cuckooed six more times and started giggling!'
